195. PETITION of MARGARET SINCLAIR to the KING anent the murder of her husband,
JOHN GRANT of Carron. Circa 1630.

To the Kings most Excellent Majestie,

The humble peticioun of Margarett Sincler, the relict of John Graunt of Carron;

WHOE most humbly sheweth vnto your royall Majesty, that whereas Ballendalloch (vpon false suggestions pretended to your Maiesty to colour and palliate his bloodie murder of your suppliants husband), procured your Majesties letters dated the 15th of Aprill 1629, directed to your Secret Councill of Scotland, that if Finley McGrimen did not sett sufficient caution for his comperance to underlye the lawe before the first day of August then followinge, that their lordships should certifie your Majesty, as by the said letter appeares att large.

It may please your Majestie, this M<sup>c</sup>Grimen (who was suggested to be in your petitioners late husbands companie when he was murthered, and to be one of the murtherers of John Grant, vncl of the said Ballendalloch), came to appeare att the said first of August last vpon perswations of noe other matters to be alleadged against him but vpon the contents conteyned in your Majesties said letters; but afterwards vnderstandinge of the truth of other materiall matters, and how, amongst others, two witnesses were produced, who were parties to the murther of the vncl of the said Ballendalloch, and by him were suborned vpon promise for their periury to be freed of their murther, escaped without comperance. Now, forasmuch as the said Ballendalloch did wilfullye and vpon mallice kill your Highnes petitioners late husband, as shall appeare by many good and substantiall witnesses, and not in the execution of auy comission, the said M<sup>c</sup>Grimen nor noe other rebell then beinge in his company when he was murthered, but onely vseth delays to keepe himself from recewinge the iust doome of his notorious murther.

Your petitioner therefore most humble beseecheth your royall Majesty, of your accustomed goodness, to be graciously pleased to graunt your royall new letters to your Secret Councell of Scotland, requiringe them to call before them the said Ballendalloch, and to cause him forthwith to shew his commission and horninge against the said M<sup>c</sup>Grimen which he pretendeth to have, and to certifie youre Majesty the truth thereof: And therevpon that the said Ballendalloch may noe longer be protected nor suffred to withhold himselfe from the hand of justice; but that your Majesty will afford your petitioner and her children to take that benefitt against the said murtherer which to law and justice apperteyneth.

And as in dutie bound she and her children will dailye pray for your Majesties longe and happie raigne.

Indorsed: Petition—Margaret Sinclair, relict to John Grant of Carron, to the King.

TO ALL AND SUNDRIE whom it effeers, I, Sir Charles Araskine of Cambo, knight baronet, Lyon King of Armes, considering that be the tucntie one act of the third session of the second Parliament of our dread Sovereigne Lord, Charles the Second be the grace of God King of Scotland, England, France and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, I am impowered to visit the wholl armes of noblemen, prelates, barons and gentlemen within this kingdome, and to distinguish them with congruent differences, and to matriculat the same in my books and registers, and to give armes to vertuous and veell deserveing persones, and extracts of all armes, expressing the blazoning of the armes, vuder my hand and seall of office, which register is thereby ordained to be respected as the true and unrepealable rule of all armes and bearings in Scotland, to remaine with the Lyon's office as a public register of the kingdome ; therefore, conforme to the tenor of the said act of Parliament, I testifie and make known that the coat armour appertaining and belonging to Lodovick Grant of Freuchie or of that ilk, and approuen of and confirmed be me to him, is matriculat in my said public register vpon the day and dait of thir presents, and is thus blazoned, viz., the said Lodovick Grant of Freuchie for his achievement and ensigne armoriall bears gules, three antique crownes, Or : Above the sheild ane helmet befitting his degree, mantled gules doubled argent ; next on ane torse, for his crest a burning hill supported be two savadges or naked men, proper ; the motto in ane escroll, Stand Fast. 224. REMISSION and DISCHARGE by KING JAMES THE SEVENTH to LUDOVICK GRANT of Grant, of his fine of £42,500 Scots. 9th January 1685. [Copy.]

JAMES R.

RIGHT TRUSTY and entirely beloved cousin and counsellor, and right trusty and welbeloved cousin and counsellor, wee greet you well. Having, by our letter of the date of these presents, directed to our Privy Councill of that our ancient kingdome, been graciously pleased to discharge the fine of forty two thousand and five hundred pounds Scots money which, upon the 11th day of February last past, was by the Commissioners of our said Councill and Justiciary (then sitting at Elgine) imposed upon the Laird of Grant, in manner fully contained in their sentence for that effect; wee haue now thought fit to give you notice thereof, to the end you may take care that he be not pursued, molested, or troubled hereafter for the said fine or penalty mentioned in the said sentence, or any part thereof, but that he be (as wee doe now declare him) fully liberated and discharged of the same in all time coming, in the same manner as if the said fine had never been imposed, nor the said sentence pronounced against him: And it is our further pleasure that these presents be recorded in your books, and that authentick extracts thereof be given to him, or others in his name, as he or they shall haue occasion to desire the same, for rendering this act of our royall favour and bounty effectnall unto him: For doing whereof this shall be your warrant. 225. DECLARATION by DUNCAN FORBES of Culloden, for the satisfaction of LUDOVICK GRANT of Grant, relative to the alleged imposition of a burden of £6 monthly on lands in Inverness-shire. 4th September 1703.

FORASMUCH as I, Duncan Forbes of Colloden, am persewed before the parliament injouriously by the Master of Tarbat and other inconcerned persones, as if, in the year 1690, I had wronged the shyre of Inuernes by laying on it a burden of six pounds Scots monethly, which was formerly borne by my lands of Ferrintoshe; and now, seeing that Lodovick Grant of that Ilk is unwilling to see me wrongd, but being out of memory how that transaction in the year 1690 passed, he canuot act for me but upon assurances; therefore I the said Duncan do declair and am become oblidged in the tearmes after mentioned ; that is to say, I do declair that though I had the Laird of Grant's concurrence, as commissioner for Inuenness shyre in the year 1690, for passing of the act made at that tyme in my favors, and though wee both had the unanimous consent of the gentlemen commissioners for supply of that shyre for laying on of the said burden of six lib. Scots monethly, yet I do assert and declair that the same was never done ; but ther being ane overplus of some four, fyve, or six pounds Scots which always fell with the collectors, the same was put in lieu of the six lib. which ought to have been proportioned upon the shyre by virtew of the act of Parliament in my favors, and the shyre was kept free ; so that ther is not one man withiu it that beares a farthing of my burden, if it be not myself, who was heighthed 200 lib. Scots in anno 1691 upon my lands of Colloden : Lykeas I heirby become bound and obleidged that if this my assertion do not appear to be trew by the collector's books, and by his deposition, or that any thing fall short of the said six lib. which I say was supplyd by the overplus usually remaining with the collector, or that ever ther was a farthing stented to this day upon any man for me, and that the gentlemen of the shyre shall desyre to be rectified in it, then and in that case, I heirby oblidge me to take any such burden upon myself, and to impose it upon my own estate, upon the first examination. In witnes wherof I have wrettin and subscribit this my obligation, at Edinburgh, this fourth day of September j<sup>m</sup>vij<sup>o</sup> and three yeers, before thes witnesses, Hugh Rose of Kilraik and Alexander Grant younger of that Ilk.
